for an unreasonably low amount offered by the insurance company.

It's truly heartbreaking.

Don't settle for that amount!

Experience and Capability Required

1. Extensive Document Collection

Can you gather all necessary documents such as police reports, income loss certificates, and post-accident disability assessments?

2. Insurance Companies are Negotiation Professionals

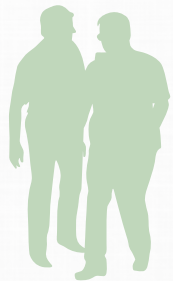

As an amateur, you are no match for them in negotiation.

3. Insurance Companies Represent the Other Party

It's a mistake to think they will protect your best interests.

4. Don't Relax Even After Agreement

Can you create a flawless and favorable settlement agreement? Professional expertise is essential.

Compensation Amounts Will Increase!

1. Types of Damages

- A Hospital and Clinic Expenses
- B Lost Income
- C Pain and Suffering Compensation for Injuries
- After Symptom Fixation (Medical End-Point)*
- D Loss of Future Earnings Due to Permanent Disability
- E Pain and Suffering Compensation for Permanent Disability

*Symptom Fixation: A condition where no further improvement is expected.

2. Compensation Amounts Vary Greatly Depending on the Standard

- A Compulsory Automobile Liability Insurance Standard
- B Voluntary Insurance Standard
- C Court Standard

Usually, insurance companies negotiate based on standards A and B. Lawyers use standard C, resulting in a higher compensation amount.

Lawyers Work to Your Advantage

1. Are you willing to accept being told you are largely at fault?

Lawyers will represent your frustrations.

2. The degree of negligence greatly impacts compensation amounts.

There are set standards for negligence ratios, but they aren't mechanically determined; there are modifying factors.

Lawyers argue for what's in your best interest.
